FEBRUARY 10, 2019

Getting into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, he asked him to put out a short distance from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. After he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch." Simon said in reply, "Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing, but at your command I will lower the nets." When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish and their nets were tearing

THE CHILDRENS LITURGY OF THE WORD

9:30 am Patti 11:30 am Marie

In my mind I have always fully expected to have this conversation with four sons, but I didn't expect to have it at the ages of 4 and 5.

We live in the country and are fairly isolated. Although some aspects of country living escape my appreciation, the one thing I do like is the solitude. The boys can play outside without much worry and I can seclude them from situations that I don't think they are yet prepared to handle.

About three miles from our home, however, there is a small establishment on the corner of a major highway. The building is very nondescript and you would hardly notice it at all except for a sign that lights up with a picture of a scantily clad lady in a rather questionable position, and the words "exotic dancers" underneath it. It has been there for as long as I can remember, and this is a crossroad that we go down many times during the week because it is the road that takes us to our older children's school.

I honestly don't even notice it anymore- just drive on past it. Sometimes the parking lot is quite full and other times empty. From my perspective it is just another part of the landscape, much like the family farms that surround it.

About a week ago the building and sign piqued my older son's interest. They started asking questions about what was in that "store" and why was that lady wearing a "bathing suit". I have to say the whole conversation blindsided me, and I didn't have a handy answer to anything they were asking, except that it was a "store" that some grownups went to. Now every time we go past it, the same barrage of questions come up, mostly about what the woman is wearing and why is she sitting in the manner she is.

I have toyed with the idea of finding another route but decided that is not the answer. That establishment is not going anywhere and besides the mere logistics (it would take us miles and minutes out of our way) I can keep them from seeing the sign and the painted lady upon it. Truth be told, I can't keep them from the magazine displays, the radio, the TV, the internet, or, what is soon to be our reality, things they hear at school.

As a society we know, and scientific research has confirmed, that pornography has a very negative impact on people. The use of pornography alters, in an unhealthy way the chemical makeup of the brain which makes its use addictive. People who frequently use pornography have a dramatically decreased ability to form positive and healthy romantic and marital relationships. This all goes above and beyond the absolute truth that pornography takes away from the inherent dignity of the viewer, and the person being viewed, as a unique human created in the image and likeness of God. Even with all this being said, it's a thriving industry grossing about $15 billion dollars a year in the United States alone. So, although we know the dangers, the risk for many seems more satisfying than the benefits of its non-use.

What has bothered me about this whole episode with my boys is not so much that they noticed this painted lady, it is the fact that I didn't. It had become such a normalized image to me. In my mind I know pornography is harmful and dangerous, but since it didn't impact my life in any concrete way it was just one of those things that I just needed to ignore since it didn't involve me.

OFFICIAL POLICY ANNOUNCEMENT

Whenever a county/city within the Diocese of Toledo is placed under a Level 3 Snow Emergency, during which all roadways are closed to non-emergency personnel, the Catholic Churches within that geographic region will cancel the scheduled Saturday Vigil, Sunday, or Holy Day Masses. Roman Catholics in that region, therefore, are dispensed from the obligation to attend Mass. If Masses are cancelled, Catholics are encouraged to participate in Holy Mass via television, radio, or internet, making a spiritual Communion. When Mass is cancelled, all other diocesan, parish, or school events in the geographic region are also cancelled. When school is cancelled, all Parish activities are cancelled as well.

PRISON MINISTRY CORNER

It is truly a joy and a privilege being involved in prison ministry. We team members are inspired by the faith, hope, and love shown by our incarcerated brothers. One of our brothers shared these words, describing our Catholic Choir Christmas Concert and the obstacles we overcame during our preparation: My prayer throughout the concerts was that all in attendance felt the Lord's presence, that all hopelessness and despair turned to hope and that discouragement turned to encouragement. As we journey through this new year, I am reflecting on what I took from last year's experiences. I learned that through perseverance, consideration, commitment and unity all things are possible for those who love God. Romans 12:5 tells us "We, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another." So this year I encourage all of us to look for Christ each day in every person we meet.

But it does, and it will, more and more as I strive to raise my boys into the men that God has called them to be. They will be confronted with the realities of pornography over and over again. They will have to make decisions on its use in their lives. They will have to decide whether or not it is important enough to stand up against, or casually ignore, as their mother did, because it didn't involve "them".

As persons of faith, and pornography just being one example, we have to keep in mind that we are called to stand up for the dignity of those around us by our baptismal office. We are called to remind people of the dangers of the objectification of humans in many ways which goes against the ultimate creation plan. Most importantly we are called to "love one another" as God loved us in an unselfish and all-encompassing way.

INTER CHURCH COUNCIL

St. Peter's Catholic Church participates in the Inter Church Council of Mansfield. The ICC is a group of lay persons and pastors from the "downtown" churches of Mansfield seeking to provide support for each other and the various ministries that outreach into our communities.

Currently only one lay member from our parish—Ron Stevens—serves as a representative on the Council. We thank Patsy Saul for his many years of faithful service to ICC. We are seeking the involvement of more representatives from St. Peter's. Meetings are held the 2nd Tuesday of each month from 10 to 11 am at various member locations. This is an ideal opportunity to learn more about our local churches and to actively participate in ecumenical efforts in our area. Watch the bulletin for upcoming ICC events, including the "March for Prayer" with a prayer service to be held in a variety of Mansfield churches each evening in March. Here at St. Peter's we will host this event Monday, March 4. If you are interested in learning more about ICC or perhaps would consider serving with Ron Stevens as our parish representatives, please call the Parish office—419.524.2572 and leave your name and number.

GOD'S SUMMONS

Confronted with God's power and majesty, the first response of the prophet Isaiah was to acknowledge his sinfulness. "Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips," he said aloud. Likewise, with his empty fishing nets dramatically filled at Jesus' instruction, Peter fell to his knees and cried out, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man."

Next, Peter got up. He docked his boats then left to follow Jesus. Isaiah also had a dramatic change of heart. When he heard the Lord say, "Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?" Isaiah answered, "Here I am, send me."

We are summoned daily by the Risen Lord. We are reminded of the saving power of the Gospel and know in our heart of hearts that, as St. Paul wrote, believing in anything else won't lead to anything.

What will it take for you to move past your sinfulness? What will it take for you to get off your knees? What will it take for you to bring to dock what is unimportant and to accept your call to be God's messenger?

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

The Reign of God comes about because people commit to reversing their lives completely, to embracing new vision, new values. Many popular television shows exploit an unattractive side of human nature by pitting contestants against one another, even to the point of performing dangerous stunts or devious schemes, to gain money or favor.

At the liturgy, we counter that impulse by committing ourselves to live generously. In response to Christ's total gift, we offer bread and wine as the emblems of our lives, our hopes, our joys and sorrows. The bread and wine carried to the altar contain our lives, and by offering our lives to God, we prepare to receive the gift of God's own life. We are to become what we receive: the body of Christ.

On Sundays, this self giving is often accompanied by a collection and procession of gifts for the poor and money for the upkeep of the parish. There are certainly other methods of collecting money, some perhaps more efficient. Yet the act of giving from our abundance, and attending to the needs of the poor, opens us up to participation in the changes the Reign of God requires.
